

How can I cut and paste text using Firefox?

The JotSpot WYSIWYG editor contains three icon buttons for copying and pasting text. They are:

- * Cut selection
- * Copy selection
- * Paste from clipboard

These icon buttons work in Internet Explorer but not in Firefox. In addition, the context menu items (right click) do not work in Firefox.

Firefox throws the following cryptic error message:

Unprivileged scripts cannot access Cut/Copy/Paste programmatically for security reasons. Click OK to see a technical note at mozilla.org which shows you how to allow a script to access the clipboard.

In order to cut and paste text in Firefox, users must rely on keyboard commands:

- * Control-X = cut
- * Control-C = copy
- * Control-V = paste
